The Cessna Citation Sovereign is in a class all its own. This super midsize beauty can leap and be airborne from runways in just under 4,000 feet and has the ability to cross the United States non-stop. Once it's done sweeping its passengers away in utmost comfort, it can easily land in under 3,000 feet – all the while, with the smoothest landing possible, thanks to its plush trailing link landing gear. That capability is something that many other business jets simply cannot match. The short field capabilities are not the only benefit to this airplane. Its legs provide up to 2847 miles of range, with adequate fuel reserves. That's enough to easily connect the west coast to the east and open up international travel for both exotic and productive destinations. This aircraft features a full refreshment center with coffee maker, enclosed lavatory, Airshow, CD/DVD Players, 110v outlet, WIFI, and a Satellite Phone.
